1 - What did you learn - in terms of knowledge, skills, or perspectives - in this course?The answer to this question will generally be available in Vergil.

- I learned a very detailed history of oil and gas sector that leads us to where we are now and how it will impact where we are tomorrow

- Overview of global energy systems, governance, a realist view of how things work.

- This course was a fascinating introduction to how energy has shaped geopolitics. It gave me a new perspective on international relations and the role of different forms of energy, particularly fossil fuels, in the development and interaction of nations.

- In this course I learned the role of energy and security as it relates to the world's leading energy producers and consumers. Additionally I learned Geopolitics of the Caspian Basin and The Changing geopolitics of natural gas.

- I learned the evolution of geopolitics, transfer of power in energy markets, to include its diplomatic and economic impacts.

4 - Please qualify your recommendations if you wish:The answer to this question will generally be available in Vergil.

- There are so many number of years especially while talking about history, it will be very helpful to use slides.

- One of my favorite courses this semester, it combines pragmatism with theory, and changed my way of looking at energy geopolitics
